transcosmos Launches “CCPA-Compatible Opt-Out Reception Contact Center Service” for the US Market

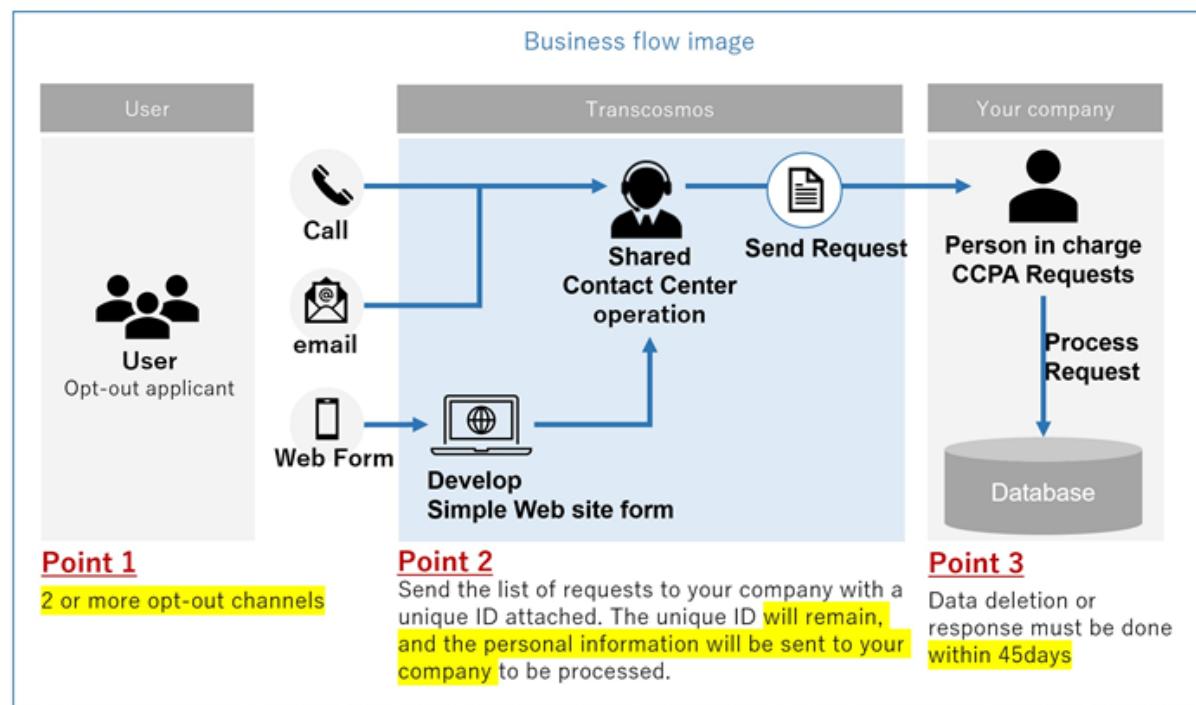

Service Is Compliant With the Consumer Privacy Act CCPA (California Consumer Privacy Act) Which Will Be Fully Implemented in California Starting July

transcosmos inc. (Headquarters: Tokyo, Japan; President and COO: Masataka Okuda) has been working with transcosmos America Inc., the US subsidiary, to begin providing an “opt-out contact contact center service” corresponding to the CCPA (California consumer privacy act), which is fully implemented in California starting July 2020.

The California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), which came into effect in January 2020 and is scheduled to come into full effect from July 2020, protects personal information of consumers living in California and protects data privacy rights. This law gives consumers (California residents) eight privacy rights and imposes eight obligations on the handling of “personal information” of such consumers on companies who process the information. It may also apply to companies not only in California but also to companies with users in California. It is also drawing attention in states other than California, where measures need to be taken because it can be presumed that similar laws will be enforced in those states in the future.

With CCPA enforcement, companies must comply with consumer opt-out requests and the law requires that there be two or more opt-out reception channels. Therefore, transcosmos has begun offering the “CCPA-compatible opt-out reception contact center service” that corresponds to consumers’ requests for opt-out from companies through three channels: phone call, email, and web form. A specialized center will be opened within the LA base of transcosmos America, and bilingual operators in Japanese and English will provide everything from reception to reporting. A reception desk can be set up at low cost in a short time as it will be provided as a shared service.

transcosmos America's "CCPA-compatible opt-out reception contact center service" aims to provide not only to companies in the US, but also to Japanese companies with users in California.
