transcosmos joins RE Action

Aims to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050

transcosmos hereby announces that the company has joined RE Action, an initiative run by RE Action Council (Location: Tokyo, Japan; Executive Director: Yukari Takamura).

RE Action is the renewable energy initiative bringing together local governments, educational and medical institutions, and small to medium-sized enterprises in Japan committed to 100% renewable electricity.

The initiative accelerates change towards 100% renewable electricity in society by member's declaration and implementation and gives an impact on the market and policies.

RE Action members are required to:

- (1) Make a public commitment to sourcing/or having already sourced 100% renewable electricity throughout their entire operations, publicly declaring a target year (by 2050 latest);
- (2) Actively involved in policy engagement led by RE Action Council; and
- (3) Report their data annually regarding to electricity consumption and share of renewable electricity.

To achieve carbon neutrality by 2050, transcosmos will take action with the goal to shift to 100% renewable energy as a Group by the same year.
