transcosmos launches an internal program that spreads sustainable values within the community in Vietnam

Supporting children's education in Vietnam through a charity program "TCV E-Running Cup Season 3"

In Vietnam, transcosmos runs an internal program to spread sustainable values within the community. This year, the company is holding TCV E-Running Cup Season 3, under the message "Run for Young Future." Continuing its journey, this season marks a meaningful transformation by focusing on educational support activities for underprivileged children in Vietnam.

■ From a Green Journey to a Symbol of Internal Unity

After two successful seasons, TCV E-Running Cup has become not only a highly anticipated annual internal sports event, but also a symbol of solidarity and social responsibility among transcosmos employees in Vietnam. Over the past two years, hundreds of transcosmos employees in Vietnam have contributed to positive environmental impacts through charity running activities for tree planting:

- More than 30,000 kilometers completed by employees across both Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City.
- 3,000 trees planted nationwide through the conversion of running achievements into environmental contributions.

These achievements reflect not only the perseverance and dedication of employees but also serve as a strong foundation for transcosmos to further expand its corporate social responsibility initiatives toward more meaningful human-centered values.

■ TCV E-Running Cup 2026: Every Kilometer Becomes a Gift of Knowledge

Entering its 3rd season, transcosmos has chosen education as the core focus of its 2026 community journey in Vietnam. With the message "Run for Young Future," every kilometer completed during the event will be converted by the transcosmos Vietnam Labor Union into contributions to the "Book Fund for Underprivileged Children."

The fund will support textbooks, notebooks, and educational books that help nurture knowledge and personal development for children before the new academic year begins. Through this initiative, the company aims to create greater educational opportunities for children while spreading the spirit of sharing and compassion throughout the community.

■ Launching a Meaningful Journey with Strong Support from TCVers

On May 14, the online opening ceremony of TCV E-Running Cup 2026 was successfully held with enthusiastic participation from transcosmos employees in Vietnam. Immediately after the online registration portal opened, many employees quickly joined the race and began recording their first achievements through the program’s application platform. Beyond promoting physical wellness, this year’s running event also carries the meaningful mission of connecting the community through every individual step.

With unity and perseverance, transcosmos hopes to transform every running route into a bridge of knowledge, contributing to better learning opportunities for underprivileged children.
