Announcement of Revisions on Dividend Forecast for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2013

At the Board of Directors meeting held on April 30, 2013, we have decided on revising the dividend forecast per share for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2013 as the following:

Record

1. Reason for revision of dividend forecast

We consider profit share distribution for our shareholders as one of the most important measures for our management. We have adopted a policy in the style to place more importance on the payout ratio directly linking to the business performance, and by sharing profits with our shareholders; we in turn increase the market value of our company's stocks, which serves as our basic policy.

As for the forecast dividends for fiscal year ended March 31, 2013, we were undecided as of May 15, 2012; however, based upon the above-mentioned policy, we have determined our forecast dividend as 36 Yen per share.

As for the distributed amount per share, we will be making a decision at the Board of Directors meeting scheduled to be held on May 15, 2013.

2. Revision Overview
