transcosmos holds Insight & Solution Seminar 2023 with Applied Technology and Autodesk, a digital conference designed to help the construction/manufacturing industries solve challenges

Presents the latest use cases and solutions under 3 categories BIM, Community Building and Manufacturing

transcosmos inc. (Representative Director, Co-presidents: Masaaki Muta, Takeshi Kamiya) hereby announces that the company will hold Insight & Solution Seminar 2023 on November 8, 2023 with APPLIED TECHNOLOGY CO., LTD. (President & CEO: Toshiro Funahashi) and Autodesk Ltd. Japan (Representative Director: Lou Grespan). The digital conference is specifically designed to help the construction and manufacturing industries solve challenges they face.

In the Insight & Solution Seminar 2023, the three companies will present the latest success stories and solutions under three categories – BIM, Community Building and Manufacturing – for clients with a particular focus on those in the construction industry that are keen on promoting DX (digital transformation). This marks the third anniversary of this seminar, a seminar held under the theme of solving challenges since 2021. With a sub theme – Breakthrough - experts in various fields present how to break through the status quo from a broad perspective, providing all participants with tips that help them solve their respective challenges.
